

Mr Hoyne has been involved in the energy sector since 1993. Initial completing research in the bioenergy sector he established the TEA in 1998 has been the MD since. The TEA has grown to have a staff of 8 in 2012. Seamus Hoyne is a Mechanical Engineer with a Masters through Research and also holds an MSc in Energy Management. He has coordinated and led a wide range of projects across the energy sector and has experience at work with a wide range of actors and clients. He has previously been the Secretary of IrBEA and the Chairperson of the AIEA. He has been involved in establishing the Sustainable Energy Supply Service in both Local Authorities in Co. Tipperary and has worked with a large number of public bodies developing policies and strategies in relation to sustainable energy. He has coordinated the EU €10.4 SERVE Project since 2007 which has seen an investment of €8.5m in sustainable energy actions in North Tipperary. He is currently the Head of Department for Technology, Science and Flexible Learning in LIT.